

Big Tent Tallinn

Many Points of View, One Amazing Internet

On the occasion of the Freedom Online Coalition's high level conference in Tallinn, Google invites you to join us to debate the future of Internet freedom and governance in the age of surveillance.

Participants include Estonia's President Toomas Hendrik Ilves and Google Chief Evangelist and "father of the Internet" Vint Cerf. They will be speaking a week after a major Internet governance forum takes place in Brazil. U.S. Secretary of State John Kerry will speak live on Internet Freedom.

Tim Franks of the BBC will moderate.

When: Monday April 28, 5:30 p.m. - 8 p.m.

Where: Seaplane Harbour Museum
Vesilennuki 6, Tallinn, 10145, Estonia

Transfers from the Swissôtel will be provided

There will be cocktail and snacks on arrival. After the show, stay for live music, light dinner and a free bar.
